

This Info Sheet describes the impact of employment after retirement for members of the:

- Anti-Tuberculosis League Superannuation Plan;
- Liquor Board Superannuation Plan;
- Public Service Superannuation Plan;
- Saskatchewan Transportation Company Superannuation Plan; and
- Power Corporation Superannuation Plan.

AVOID PENSION SUSPENSION

It is important that you understand the guidelines about employment after retirement from the Plan. Employment with the Government of Saskatchewan, or an Agency or Crown Corporation of the Government of Saskatchewan may cause your pension to be suspended from the day you begin working again.

BEFORE YOU ACCEPT EMPLOYMENT

If you are considering employment after retirement, contact the Plan. We will need to know the details of your return to work (when you returned to work, the name of your employer, your hours of work and how long you will be working). We can then advise you how the employment would affect your pension.

Permanent Employment

If you become a permanent, full-time employee of a Government of Saskatchewan employer, your pension will be suspended immediately.

Non-permanent Employment

If you become a non-permanent or part-time employee of a Government of Saskatchewan employer, your pension will be suspended after you have worked 50 per cent of the full-time equivalent in a fiscal year.

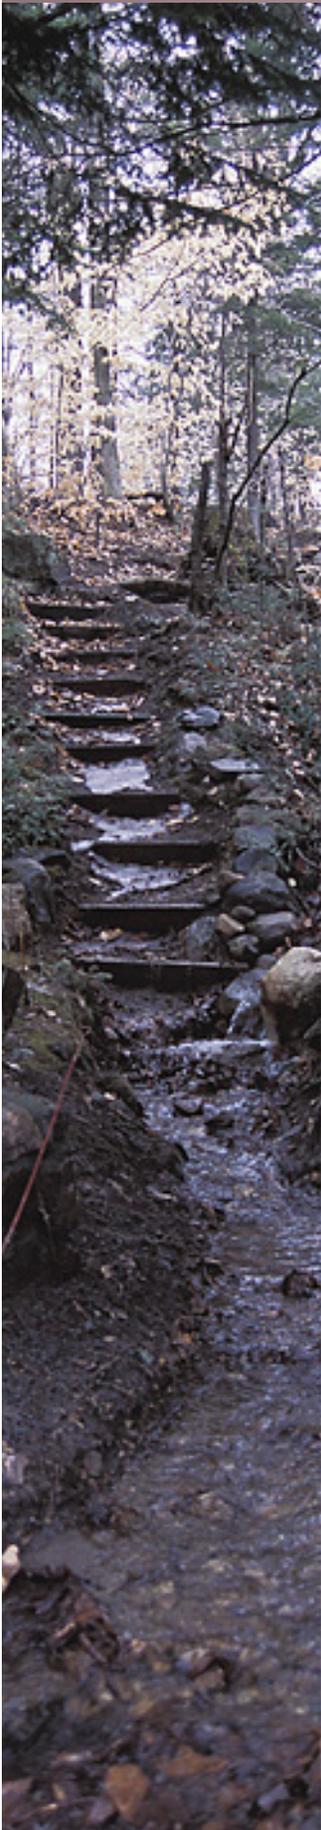

Contract Employment

The contract may create an employee/employer relationship which would mean suspension of your pension. If you begin contract employment with a Government of Saskatchewan employer, the Plan needs:

- the start and end date of the contract; and
- a copy of the contract.

AFTER YOU ACCEPT EMPLOYMENT

If you accept employment while receiving a pension from the Plan, it is up to you and your employer to inform the Plan. The suspension of pension payments is governed by The Superannuation (Supplementary Provisions) Act, not the employer.

Section 27 of The Superannuation (Supplementary Provisions) Act States:

Suspension of allowance upon re-employment

27(1) Where a person who is in receipt of a superannuation allowance under this Act or any other superannuation Act hereafter becomes entitled to receive a salary from the government, then the superannuation allowance shall be suspended from the day on which this section comes into force or from the day on which such salary entitlement commences, whichever is later.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), a person who is in receipt of a superannuation allowance may be employed by the government as a temporary, casual or provisional employee for any period or periods, not exceeding in the aggregate six months in any fiscal year, without suspension of the superannuation allowance.

(3) Subsection (1) does not apply where the person in receipt of a superannuation allowance is the spouse of a person who at the time of death was an employee or a superannuate and where the person in receipt of the allowance is not personally a superannuate.

CHANGES TO LEGISLATION

Laws are subject to change. If you are a retired member of a pension plan and you are seeking re-employment, contact the Plan. We can tell you about the effect the employment may have on continued payment of your pension.
